

Ethan Haynes

Humanities teacher Chris Becker says the following about LEAF senior Ethan Haynes; “His humor and intelligence made my day more times than I can count. He knows how to think and because of that, he knows how to achieve what he wants in life.”

Ethan is exploring lots of options for his future including trade school to become a plumber or an electrician but he is also interested in exploring the possibility of respiratory therapy. None of us would be surprised if he ended up as an architect or an engineer. One thing he is sure his future holds is a move to a warmer climate, possibly North Carolina.

Ethan really appreciates humanities teacher Chris Becker and STEM teacher Rob Leinau. “They both were great. They helped make everything easier.”
